Allworx Receives 2011 INTERNET TELEPHONY Product of the Year Award

Allworx 48x IP Phone System receives second recognition for innovation from TMC

ROCHESTER, N.Y.— Allworx, a subsidiary of Windstream Corp. (Nasdaq: WIN), announced today that TMC, a global, integrated media company, has named the Allworx 48x IP Phone System as a recipient of the 2011 INTERNET TELEPHONY Product of the Year Award.

“Our focus on innovation and developing the very best telecommunication technology is evident with this Product of the Year Award for the 48x IP Phone System,” said Chris Hasenauer, vice president and general manager of Allworx. “We are committed to delivering products with advanced technology that are reliable, as well as easy to use and support.”

The Allworx 48x IP Phone System offers built-in connections to traditional phones lines, T1/PRI, and SIP services. As the IP-based phone trend continues to grow, Allworx phone systems allow small and medium size businesses to move to VoIP at their own pace.

The Allworx 48x can support up to 250 users per system. It has two T1/PRI interfaces that make it the perfect solution for medium sized businesses. The 48x also offers full support for all Allworx VoIP phones, contains energy efficient design for maximum energy cost savings, and has a solid state drive for increased reliability.

“I am happy to grant Allworx with a Product of the Year Award. The editors of INTERNET TELEPHONY have verified that the Allworx 48x IP Phone System displays quality and innovation plus provides real solutions in the marketplace,” stated Rich Tehrani, CEO, TMC. “I would like to congratulate the entire team at Allworx for their commitment to advancing IP communication technologies.”

2011 Product of the Year winners are published in the January/February 2012 issue of INTERNET TELEPHONY magazine, (www.itmag.com). INTERNET TELEPHONY has been the authority in IP communication since 1998™.
